

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

This conclusion presents based on the data that have been analyzed on the previous chapter. The video song is a great media to be implemented in teaching learning. The students showed interest in learning and enthusiasm during learning in the online classroom. The video song implementation can also make the students relax and as the result their understanding in the topic of the lesson is increasing. It can be seen from the observation checklist from the first cycle was 68% and the second cycle was 80% it means that the students participated in the learning process enthusiastically

From the data analysis, it can also be concluded that the using of video songs can improve students understanding of the recount text to 8B grade students of SMPN 48 Surabaya. This reseach showed that the implementation of video song can improve students understanding of recount text. The improvement of students understanding in recount text can be shown from each cycle. From the first cycle the mean of scores was 75 and from the second cycle was 84 . This was supported by data from pre test that was increased from 59 to 83 of post test. Video Song is also interesting for students. Music is the good environment for students during learning time.

5.2. Suggestion

Teachers can use video songs as the alternative of interesting teaching media that can be used in the classroom. Music is interesting and enjoyable as the music can make the students feel relax and they can break from the usual routine of teaching learning process. Video song can be used for English teacher to improve their quality of teaching and can be chosen to solve the problem they face in students understanding of reading

Video song can be used by students as an enjoyable environment during learning process that can enhance the students motivation to learn. As they are enjoying the learning process they are encouraged to explore their English skills.

The other researchers can use video songs to improve the students understanding in language skills such as .writing, speaking, listening or vocabularies. Video songs in this research is proved can help students to reinforce what they learn in the classroom.

